

The map is a detailed topographic representation of a region in Poland. It features a grid of contour lines indicating elevation, with numerous numerical values (e.g., 240.0, 250.0, 260.0) scattered across the terrain. Key locations are labeled in bold, including 'Marzysz', 'Kielków', 'Borków', 'Kaczyn', 'Zoołowe', 'Przypust', 'Podmarzysz', and 'Kucyń-Zdrój'. A prominent railway line is drawn across the map, with a thick black segment in the lower right corner. This segment is labeled 'koniec km 0+867' at its southern end and 'początek km 0+000' at its northern end. The map also shows various smaller features like roads, rivers, and forested areas, providing a comprehensive view of the landscape.